The method for the calculation and payment of winning wagers

A wager is a winning wager when the outcome is a non-losing outcome. In case of a Straight bet the calculation is simple, the amount of the wager multiplied by the odd.

A 'parlay' bet is a bet placed on multiple outcomes to occur. For a parlay bet to win, all outcomes within the parlay must be set as non-losing outcomes. The odds for each pick are multiplied by one another to determine the multiplier odd for the pay-out. For example, New England at -150 odds, parlayed with New York at +200 odds, would result in +400 odds. Wager $20 on the above two picks, New England, and New York BOTH wins, would result in a 100$ pay-out. Considering the following formulas:

- True Odds Multiplier for Negative Odds: $(-1) \times (100/\text{Money Line}) + 1 = \text{True Odds Multiplier}$
- True Odds Multiplier for Positive Odds: $(\text{Money Line} / 100) + 1 = \text{True Odds}$

MultiplierIn the example previously mentioned:

$$\text{New England @ -150} \rightarrow (-1) \times (100/-150) + 1 = 1.6667$$

$$\text{New York @ +200} \rightarrow (200/100) + 1 = 3.0000$$

$$\text{True Odds Multiplier for Parlay} = 1.6667 * 3.0000 =$$

$$5.00 \text{ Pay-out} = 20$ \times 5.00 = 100$$$

The effect of schedule changes

All the scheduled changes and their effects are explained in detail for each sport in the following chapters

Rules by Sport

Soccer

Article 1

The outcome of a bet is based on the result at the end of the regular playing time plus the injury time. Unless otherwise specified, extra time and subsequent penalty kicks do not affect the outcome of the bet.

Article 2

In case of friendly matches, The Operator will communicate on the bet durations of less than 90 minutes. If this does not happen, all friendly matches that last at least 80 minutes are considered valid. If a friendly match lasted less than 80 minutes and it was not reported, the bets are declared refund. If a friendly match was played in ways different from the canonical 2 halves (e.g., 3 halves of 30 minutes each) but still lasted the expected minutes, bets on the final result will be reported, while those on the 1st or 2nd half will be declared void. If the duration of a friendly match is different from the cases highlighted above (e.g., a friendly match is played in three 45-minute halves), bets will be declared refund.

Article 3

If a match is not played by midnight (CET) on the day following the date published in the official program, the linked bets will be refunded.

Article 4

If a match is played in neutral, the home team will be considered as first, while the away team as second.

Article 5

To determine the payment of particular bet types (for example the minute in which a goal is scored, the number of fouls made and suffered or possession of the ball) the data reported by the following reference websites will be valid:

- Italy - www.legaseriea.it/it
- UEFA - www.uefa.com
- Spain - www.rfef.es
- Germany - www.bundesliga.com
- England - www.premierleague.com
- France - www.ligue1.com

Soccer specials

Article 1

The bet types in the "Football/Coach/Player Specials" category can be related to a single team, to a single day of a competition, to the final ranking of a tournament or to a football world persona (footballer, coach or other).

Article 2

For the outcome of the bet the header of the offered market set will be valid, both as an indication on the bet object and, if present, as the end date of the event.

Article 3

The outcome of a special bet is based on the results published on the official websites of the tournament or the teams (e.g., A bet on the scorer of a Serie A match will be based on the scoresheet published by the website www.lega-calcio.it, while a bet on exemption of the Juventus coach will be based on the date/time of publication of the official club statement on its website). Additional reference websites will be specified in the single market type. The outcome of a bet related to the performance of a match is based on the result obtained at the end of the regular game time plus injury time. Unless otherwise specified, extra time and any penalty shootouts will not affect the outcome of the bet.

Article 4

Unless otherwise specified for some particular types, if in a special bet related to several matches one match is declared void (according to the Operator regulation), also the special bet will be declared refunded. In a bet on scorers of a match, unless otherwise specified, in case of suspension resulting postponement past midnight on the scheduled day, all bets will be declared refunded even if some goals have already been scored.

Article 5

"Fantasy Bets" are special bets that concern matches between teams that will not really face each other. The result of the bet will be obtained considering the number of goals scored by the teams in question in a real played match (therefore it does not count whether in reality a team has won, tied or lost, it only counts how many goals it has scored). For all the offered market types refer to the general rules of the pregame football section.

Tennis

Article 1

If a tennis match is officially postponed or suspended, the bets connected to it will remain valid if the match is resumed and completed within three days from the official start date. If it is not played or completed within the aforementioned term, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded.

Article 2

If in a tennis match one of the participants does not coincide with those initially planned for the match itself, the bets connected to it will be declared refunded.

Article 3

If one of the players withdraws before the start of the match, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded. For the Head-to-Head and H2H 1st Set markets, if a player withdraws after the completion of the first set, the opponent will be considered the winner. For all other markets offered, bets will be declared refunded, except in cases where the outcomes of certain bet types are already acquired during the match as per specific regulation of the related markets.

Article 4

If one of the players is disqualified, the bets connected to him in the Head-to-Head market will be considered lost. If the results of certain bet types are already acquired during the match, the related bets will be paid as won or lost, while in the markets where it is impossible to determine a winner, the related bets will be paid refunded as per specific regulation of the related markets.

Article 5

Bets related to the performance of a player in a tournament or in a certain phase of it will be declared refunded, if the player in question retires before the first match of the tournament, while if the player retires after the start of the first match, bets will remain valid.

Basketball

Article 1

The outcome of a bet on a basketball match is based on the result obtained at the end of the regular playing time, including any over time that may have been disputed as a result of a tie at the end of the regular time.

Article 2

If the fight is not disputed or completed within the aforementioned term, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded.

Article 3

If a fighter withdraws before the start of the match, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded. If the withdrawal occurs after the start of the match, the opponent will be considered the winner.

Olympic Games

Article 1

To determine the outcome of the bet, reference will be made exclusively to the results of the official ranking published by the official website of the competition at the time of the award ceremony. Participants assigned with the gold, silver and bronze medals will be considered relevantly for the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places. Any disqualifications after the awards will not be considered. In case of a suspension of the event, bets will remain valid until the event is considered completed or cancelled. In case of a cancellation of the event, bets will be paid only if the official order of arrival is published by the organizer.

Ice Hockey

Article 3

Only the ranking published on the official related website of the tournament in question will be considered for betting purposes.

Cricket

Article 1

Bets on a cricket event are based on the result obtained at the end of the match. The result of a match is considered as “tie” when the score is tied at the end of the match and only if the team that strikes last completed its innings. In competitions for which the winner is determined by a bowl-out or a coin toss, the related bets will be reported based on the official result.

Article 2 - Interruption/Referral

In case of an interruption of a cricket match due to adverse weather conditions, the outcome of the bets on the match will be determined by the official regulations of the competition. If a match is interrupted due to external factors, bets will be considered refunded, unless the winner team is determined according to the official competition rules. External factors do not include meteorological events. If a cricket match is officially postponed or suspended, bets will remain valid if the match is resumed and completed within three days from the date published in the official program. If the match is not played or completed within the aforementioned term, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded.

Article 3 - Matches not played according to the scheduled program

If the race is not disputed or completed within the aforementioned term, all the bets connected to it will be declared refunded. If a race is reduced or "neutralized" for a part of the track, the bets will remain valid.

Baseball

Article 1 (winner and the 36-hour rule)

The winner of a baseball game is determined by the result obtained at the end of the regular playing time including any extra innings, unless otherwise specified for some bet types.

The game must be completed and there must be a winner declared within 36 hours of the scheduled start time, regardless of venue, for all "full game" wagers (includes money line, game totals and run line wagers) to be settled.

In the event that a game is still considered "suspended", by the governing body, 36 hours past the scheduled start time, then all wagers on the full game will be refunded.

In the event an extra inning game is suspended prior to its conclusion and is not completed within 36 hours will have all "full game" wagers refunded.

EXCEPTION

All playoff wagers are considered action for 30 days after the scheduled start time.

Examples:

- Game is called complete by the governing body after 8 complete innings with the home team leading 9-0. All “full game” wagers are refunded.
- Visiting team is leading 7-4 in the middle of the 11th inning. Game is suspended until later in the season by the governing body. All “full game” wagers are refunded.
- Game is suspended in the 8th inning but resumes and completes within 36 hours of the originally scheduled starting time. All wagers are settled on the official final score after the game is completed.
- Game is rained out on the scheduled day but is played as a double header the next day. All wagers are action as long as the game completes within 36 hours of the originally scheduled starting time.
- Game is rained out and re-scheduled for later in the season. All wagers are refunded.

Article 2 (action)

Unless otherwise noted, all baseball wagers (to include money line, totals, run lines, first five inning and “by inning” props) included in Pregame and In Play markets, are considered “action” or team versus team wagers. Wagers have action at the confirmed price regardless of the starting pitcher(s).

Article 3 (completeness)

For “full game” wagers (including money line, game totals and run line wagers), a game will be considered official after eight and one-half innings if the home team is leading or nine innings if the visiting team is leading or the game is tied.

Article 4 (double headers)

“Game 1” will always be the first game played. “Game 2” will always be the second game played. In the event only one game concludes within 36 hours from the start of “Game 1”, the concluding game will always be considered “Game 1”. All wagers on “Game 2” will be refunded.

Any wagers on “Game 2” will only have action if 2 games, designated as part of the double header, are played by the same teams within 36 hours of the start of “Game 1”.

Example:

- A day/night double header is scheduled. The earlier starting game is rained out, and only the night game is played. Wagers on Game 1 will apply to the game that gets played and wagers on Game 2 will be refunded.

Article 2

If a race is officially postponed or suspended, the related bets will remain valid if the race is resumed and completed within three days from the date published in the official program. If the competition is not disputed or completed within the aforementioned term, all bets connected to it will be declared refunded.

Article 3

If a race is for any reason abandoned before 75% of the total distance are completed (rounded down to the number of completed laps) the event and the bets related to it will be considered refunded, even if the competent authorities (such as, for example, the FIA) evaluate the race as completed and assign points to the teams and to the drivers.

Article 4

If one or more drivers retire before the start of the first free practice round, and at least one of them has a winning share of the race equal to or less than 5, The Operator reserves the right to declare all bet types affected by this event refunded. If a driver is unable to take part in at least one lap of the qualification session, all bets related to his/her performance will be declared refunded. If a driver, after completing the qualification session, is unable to take part in the race, all bets related to his/her performance during the race will be declared refunded, without affecting the validity of the bets related to the qualification session. Participation in the warm-up lap is valid as participation in the race. In case of withdrawal (due to a boycott/strike) during or before the start of the GP, carried out unanimously or with the consent of 25% of drivers + 1, the bets on the Class/No Class market type will be declared refunded. Bets concerning the drivers' withdrawn will be considered refunded, all the others will remain valid.

Article 5

If a driver is unable to take part in at least one lap in the free practice session, all bets related to his/her performance specifically in this session will be declared refunded.

The method of notifying players of odds or proposition changes

Pregame

When placing a bet at a Self-Service Betting Terminal or with a Ticket Writer, if the odds change before the bet is confirmed, the system will display a notification of the change in odds and will ask the player how to proceed: accept the changes and place the bet, or go back and adjust the bet manually. Illustrated below:

The screenshot displays a betting interface with a notification banner at the top: "Following odds have changed". Below this, a bet slip is shown for a soccer match: "7/20/20, 9:00 PM SOCCER / SPAIN / LALIGA 2 Elche CF - Real Oviedo". The bet is for "Away" with odds of "+630" and a "Wager" of "$1.00", resulting in a "Payout" of "$7.30". A list of alternative odds is shown on the right, including +650, +305, +230, +110, +640, +640, and +670. At the bottom, there are buttons for "Manually adjust your bet slip" and "Accept changes".

On the right side of the interface, there is a "Bet slip" section with a "Bet slip" button. Below it, the bet details are repeated: "Spain - LaLiga 2 Elche CF - Real Oviedo", "Away 1X2", "Wager $ 1.00", "Payout $7.30". The "TOTAL WAGER" is $1.00 and the "POTENTIAL PAYOUT" is $7.40. A toggle for "Accept the odds' variation" is present, and "Clear" and "Place" buttons are at the bottom.

In-play

Since InPlay betting odds changes are more frequent, the system will allow the player to see changes in real time by using two coloured arrows which identify increase (green arrow) and decrease (red arrow) of the odds.

The screenshot displays the sportsbook interface for Japan (Giappone). The left sidebar lists various sports including Basketball, Ice Hockey, Electronic Leagues, Cyber NHL League, Baseball, Tennis, and Esibizione. The main content area shows betting options for Japanese baseball matches, categorized by 'Asian Handicap Live Inc.' and 'Total'. The odds are presented in a grid format with green arrows indicating an increase and red arrows indicating a decrease.

The minimum and maximum wager amounts accepted

Minimum bet is $1.00 - Maximum bet is $100,000. The maximum bet can be lowered depending on the sport or event. The choice to lower the Maximum wager limit is decided by the Risk department on a case-by-case basis. Should a Player exceed this limit, an automatic message will inform the player of this circumstance. If the player confirms it anyway, the player will lose the right to collect winnings above the set limit.
